

Litter is just another word for trash.

PLEASE DON'T LITTER. SPAY AND NEUTER YOUR DOGS AND CATS.

Every year in the United States, millions of dogs and cats are killed in our animal shelters because there simply are too many of them and not enough homes.

If your dog or cat is having litters of puppies or kittens and you think you're finding all of them permanent and loving homes, think again. Statistics show that when puppies and kittens leave your home and grow into young, and even healthy, adult animals, they are discarded by the millions along our roads, in our streets, or they are surrendered to local animal shelters, where the vast majority of them are killed by lethal injection.

And then they're trashed.

Like yesterday's garbage.

If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the problem. In the time it has taken you to read this, another 60-70 dogs and cats have been killed and trashed.

Don't let your animals contribute to this American tragedy. Spay or neuter them today. Your dog or cat will be healthier, happier, and won't be adding to the growing pile of bodies.
